COLOR AND DENSITY

Please let us know when your file is submitted if color and/or density matching is a concern and we can offer suggestions on how best to meet your particular needs. Hanson Digital, Inc. is not responsible for the color or density accuracy of client submitted files. Please understand that while Hanson Digital, Inc. has extensive working knowledge on how to manipulate color to match your original as closely as possible, services such as custom color corrections, image editing, retouching, scanning and the like are all considered additional work and are billable. Sometimes several rounds of color adjustments are required to meet certain client objectives. All extra time will be billed in addition to the price for printing and could increase the turnaround time of your job.

Client agrees by submitting this order form that she or he has the appropriate rights and documentation to prove the rights to reproduce the submitted materials for scanning. Hanson Digital, Inc. in no way will be held liable for copyright infringement and will do everything in our power to discourage this. Also, if your originals are one of a kind or irreplaceable, please consider having a transparency made for scanning purposes. While Hanson Digital, Inc. takes the utmost care with our clients originals, we cannot be responsible for damage to originals or one of a kind pieces of art. Items marked with an "" will incur additional charges and/or may increase turnaround time. Please inquire when order form is submitted.
